

Case Study: Community libraries in Ghana

Cadbury has been working with the Participatory Development Associates (PDA) with the aim of supporting educational development in Ghanaian communities.

Cadbury's, the PDA and local communities are working to provide library facilities in Ghana.

6 community libraries in Ewiadaso, Bomba, Menang, Obonsu, Odumasi and Attobrakrom are currently being built. In Ewiadaso, Bomba and Odumasi they have made great progress and are about to put the roofs on their buildings. In a matter of weeks they will be fully operational.

Since 2006, Cadbury employees have been working hard collecting thousands of books to provide to the community libraries.
