

Case Study: Investing in the Community – Enterprise Loans

Investing in the Community: We also help farmers improve their livelihoods and facilities for education in their community in order to maintain a decent standard of living to support their families and communities. This includes enterprise loans where young people receive seed money to kick start small agricultural enterprises or sponsor apprenticeships to master a trade such as carpenters, bakers and hairdressers.